SDG 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth (Room XIX) Just Digital and Green Transitions to Leave No-One Behind

The UNECE region is undergoing three major structural transformations—the green transition, digitalization, and demographic shifts—which are reshaping labour markets, economic structures, and social protections. These transitions present opportunities for sustainable and inclusive growth but also pose challenges for ensuring decent work, social protection, labour rights and equitable economic participation. This peer learning session will explore policy responses, national case studies, and innovative approaches to supporting just green and digital transitions, while ensuring economic inclusion, social protection, and lifelong learning opportunities for all workers. The discussion at this round table in particular will inform the preparations of the Second World Summit for Social Development.

SDG 14: Life Below Water (Room VII) From Policy to Practice: Strengthening Marine and Coastal Ecosystem Management under SDG 14

The round table on SDG 14 will address key challenges and opportunities for the sustainable management of marine and coastal ecosystems in the UNECE region. The proposed topics include marine pollution prevention, sustainable fisheries management, climate resilience, blue economy development, regional collaboration, and ocean literacy. These issues are critical as European basins, like the global ocean itself, face mounting pressures from pollution, habitat destruction, overexploitation of resources, and climate change. By fostering cross-sectoral collaboration, enhancing marine monitoring, and leveraging innovative technologies, the round table will share knowledge and best practices to accelerate progress on SDG 14, promoting effective governance and resilient marine ecosystems that sustain both biodiversity and coastal communities.

The long-term impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, the rise of non-communicable diseases, mental health crises, climate change, conflicts and humanitarian emergencies are reshaping the health landscape. Meanwhile, population ageing is reshaping health needs. These global megatrends are deepening inequalities and straining health systems. This round table will explore innovative policy actions and best practices to ensure that all populations are able to access quality health services. This session will also explore how sectors outside of health can contribute to achieving SDG 3, emphasizing the importance of cross-sectoral solutions in building resilient, equitable health systems.

Closing the gap - Regional priorities for more diversified and resilient financing for sustainable development

The round table will address the considerable gap between current investment levels and the financial needs required to support the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals in the UNECE region. Substantial financing by both public and private sectors needs to be mobilized to bridge this gap, with public mechanisms frequently paving the way for the flow of private resources. Topics for discussion will include more coherence in public policies and the efficient use of public resources in times of competing political and budgetary priorities; coordination between the public and private sectors; regulatory and policy measures to help align financial flows with the SDGs; frameworks and incentives to encourage private sector engagement; climate and transition finance; financing for social development, including financing for gender equality; greater availability of innovative and sustainability-oriented financial products; and sustainable insurance products. The outcome of this regional discussion will inform preparations for the 4th International Conference on Financing for Development.
